Zombie Appreciation Society You are kindly welcomed to the Z.A.S. Annual Dinner (Zombie Appreciation Society for short!) Tonight our Chapter President will give the keynote address, but there is something a bit off, about well just everyone... And when a Supernatural Hunter turns up at the party things take a turn for the worse...

Zombie Appreciation Societies have been all the rage since the late 1800's, and this current society is the oldest in Britain, and holds an annual celebration dinner as their big event each year, raising money for everything relating to the Zombie events throughout the year including Zombie Walks, Zombie Silent Discos and Zombie Marketplaces. This particular chapter however has quite a few secrets as although the rage is about Zombies everywhere, there might be a few other supernatural creatures lurking around...
